BY HAND OR AUTOMATIC: BREW WITH BONAVIDA®'S NEW GLASS COLLECTION BRINGING COFFEE AND TEA CLARITY THIS WINTER

Seattle, WA — Bonavita is introducing a new collection of well-priced glass brewing equipment that offers flexibility and precision to the coffee and tea category. The Seattle-based coffee, tea and kitchenware brand brings the brew center stage with its new glass carafe, tea brewer and double-walled glass carafes. These simple workhorses join recognized goods like Bonavita's Variable Temperature Gooseneck Kettle, Porcelain Immersion Dripper and 5-Cup and 8-Cup Electric Coffee brewers. The new collection will be carried at the top specialty coffee and housewares stores.

Pour-over lovers appreciate glass carafes for their ease of use while fans of the automatic brewer will be thrilled to see an alternative double-walled glass carafe for transparency and clean taste. Until now most options have been pricey but the Bonavita glass collection is affordable and high quality. The Bonavita 5-Cup Doubled Wall Glass Carafe (BV61500CAD MSRP $34.99) and the 8-Cup Doubled Wall Glass Carafe (BV61900CAD MSRP $39.99) are compatible with the BV1500TS and BV1900TS 5 and 8-Cup automatic brewers by Bonavita as well as a variety of other brands. These glass-handled vessels are clean-lined and include a lid as well as a filter basket adapter. These will be available early 2016.

The new 600ml Glass Carafe (BV6600CA MSRP $19.99) features graduated markings and can be used with drippers and other manual brewing devices. It will be available in late September.

The Bonavita Glass Tea Brewer (BV6600BRT MSRP $24.99) with glass infusion insert is designed to steep loose-leaf tea. It also can be used with drippers and other manual brewing devices. Available in early October.

Bonavita's kitchenware has consistently been touted as "Best Buys" and best-performers by experts including Cook's Illustrated, Cooking Light and Food & Wine magazine. The products have been showcased by The TODAY Show, CBS's CNET, Men's Journal magazine and the Wall Street Journal. Rigorous, pre-market testing has earned three of the Bonavita electric brewers Specialty Coffee Association of America (SCAA) Brewer Certification honors: a classification that's noted and respected by culinary, beverage and consumer experts.
